Cable & Wireless Communications (CWC) achieves Cisco Advanced Cloud and Managed Services Certification

The certification is extensive to all business units including LIME, BTC and Cable & Wireless Panama

November 24, 2014 - Cable & Wireless Communications announced today it recently achieved the Cisco® Cloud and Managed Services Advanced Certification. This certification recognizes Cable & Wireless as having the capabilities to sell and deliver cloud and managed services to help accelerate time to market and time to revenue.

Laurie Bowen, CEO of Cable & Wireless Business Solutions said: “We are honored to have achieved this important certification from Cisco which reaffirms our focus on expanding our products and solutions portfolio and constantly work towards meeting our customers’ needs.”

The Cisco Cloud and Managed Services Advanced Certification is part of the Cisco Cloud and Managed Services Program, focused on helping partners such as Cable & Wireless to envision, build, market, and sell cloud and managed services with business acceleration tools and services, sales training and the Cisco Cloud Marketplace to address the varied needs of its customers. As a Cisco Cloud and Managed Services Advanced Certified Partner, Cable & Wireless will offer Cisco Powered services and provide basic management capabilities that support Cisco technologies.

This certification adds to the current list of Cisco certifications for Business and Government Managed Services held by Cable & Wireless including: Premier Certified Partner, Advanced Collaboration Architecture Specialization, Advanced Routing & Switching, Cisco Powered MPLS VPN and Cisco Metro Ethernet, Cisco Telepresence Video SMB Program, among others.
